PRESIDENT

Spring has finally made its appearance. Horse owners can tell quicker than most because of the extreme shedding of winter hair and putting show plates on the horses! This is always an exciting time of year with better weather and foals making their way into the world.

It was also an exciting time in Shipshewana, Indiana at our ASHA Annual Meeting. I would say it was the largest group of guests we have had in many years—the fellowships exchanged by the group of Shire enthusiasts was nice to see. I'd like to say thanks to those making our Educational

Day of the meeting a success; Bob Schrock of Shipshewana Harness & Supplies gave everyone a tour of his shop and then gave a demonstration on the craftsmanship it takes to make items we horse people use every day. We also visited with Dennis of Troyer Carts—they have been a huge part of ASHA's financial success with their donation of a show cart to raffle, so it was good to meet Dennis and again see the true craftsmanship in making carts and wagons. Our tour ended with a hands/eyes on demonstration of collecting semen and then breeding the mare. Gary Miller of Country Road Stables was a gracious host to answer questions regarding collecting, shipping, and the difference between frozen and chilled semen. Overall a great day of touring and learning!

Our "Members" meeting brought new ideas to the table as well as several new members joining us. This "Board" meeting was a first for a few new Board members, getting their feet wet and jumping right in! It is not always easy making difficult decisions or discussing money and budgets, but this group worked together for the best of our breed and the association—thank you to all who were there and worked to keep ASHA moving forward!

Once again there was a lot of discussion on breeders not registering their horses in a timely manner and sellers not transferring horses when sold. It is so important to do both, we rely on the registrations and transfers to keep our registry updated. Many times, buyers think the horse is all theirs while the horse is still in the seller's name and when that mare or stallion reproduces it causes a lot of unnecessary paperwork and time to get papers updated. It was also suggested at our meetings that if you sell a horse to a person that is not a member of our association, it would be great for all of us if you would buy them a membership!! This will get them active in our association and possibly turning them into a long-time member!

We are working on updating the ASHA website, thanks to input from members we see what we need to change and expand on. I would like to invite all of you to log in to your Digital Horses account and look at your horses showing up—it is simple to mark them as deceased or gelded or even an easy way to transfer them to new owners. Your account in Digital Horses is your own herd management file—keep it up to date.

We are also going to work on improving our merchandise to promote the Shire horse, stay tuned for great things to come! Your board voted to support the North American Clydesdale/Shire Fall Classic to be held September 9-11, 2021 in Shipshewana, Indiana. This is a great show dedicated to "feathered breed" drafts! Everything from an awesome youth show to halter classes, riding classes and hitches from cart thru six horse hitches. We hope that you can bring horses to support the show, and if not please come out and cheer on the Shires!

Speaking of shows, our National Shire Show is scheduled for the 2021 Iowa State Fair, August 15, 16 & 17. This is the highlight of showing Shires—crowning our National Champions! Make plans to join us, you will be glad you did!

In closing, I want to sincerely thank all those who work behind the scenes to keep the Shire and ASHA moving forward, your work and dedication is so appreciated. It is humbling to see members from across this country coming together for the betterment of our breed! I hope you have easy foaling days, successful breeding, and summer plans to show off your Shires!

VICE-PRESIDENT

For those of you who do not know me, I am DJ Bradshaw, and I am your new Vice President. I am from Northeast Georgia, where we have 6 wonderful [most days] Shire mares. I am not new to drafts, but have only been a part of the Shire world since 2017, though sometimes it feels a lot longer. Our farm's primary goal is breeding and For Hire work, as tourism is our largest industry in Rabun County.

When you get this newsletter, you will read about the Annual Membership Meeting and Education Day. By far this was the best that I had attended on both accounts. Lisa and Jim's committee did a great job and I look forward to next year's events. At the meeting I adopted the mantra "I only have one year so I have to make it count." As you may know, I was elected for a one-year term on the Board of Directors, as we transition to yearly elections, and will be up for reelection this fall. This is in an effort to stagger our BoD positions for three year terms every three years. But for now, there is the chance I could be voted off and I need to make my time count.

With that, I want to address some issues and be frank with our membership in the interest of time. The board of directors is charged with association business, reviewing budget, expense, income and how to keep the lights on. The two main sources of income for ASHA is transfers and registration fees. I am quite concerned when long standing breeders/members who do not follow association rules and are in-a-rears in these categories. As members of ASHA, we have a responsibility to this magnificent horse, to keep a solvent registry and protect each of our investments both in the breed and our farm. And that is why we have changed the back of our registry papers, no longer allowing the seller to sign the papers and hand them off. Transfer must be completed either through Digital Horses, or via hard copy to the office with the appropriate fee within 30 days otherwise, the fee is doubled (members pay $40, non-members pay $80).

On the topic of registrations – our number one issue holding up registrations in the office, is waiting for DNA from the person wanting to register the horse. This occurs when the breeder expects the new buyer to submit the registration request and follow up with the DNA paperwork. Your hard earned foal may never make it into the studbook due to a lack of know-how or urgency to submit by the buyer. I humbly urge our breeders to handle all of that paperwork, as a point of pride in your breeding program. Pull the hair for DNA the day the horse walks on the trailer if you must, but please help us register every pure-bred Shire in our studbook, it helps you, it helps the association and frankly, it builds the breed we all love. Most of the time, the buyer thinks the registration paper imbues ownership, it does not. Years later, when they seek information on why they are not able to do business on their Shire, they are disappointed and disenfranchised because they "thought" the seller set them up for success. They feel let down and generally have a negative opinion about ASHA. Our fine folks in the office then have to deal with unhappy customers who are facing higher fees and other hurdles to being able to use their Shires in full capacity. In short, if you are a Shire breeder, please take a look at the ASHA rules, follow the registration process before you sell, and complete transfers as part of the sale before the horse leaves your property. Please be mindful of the time restrictions that are in place when it comes to registrations and transfers. If you are not sure please contact the ASHA office or a board member and ask what they are and avoid issues and higher fees. The easiest way is to handle it through Digital Horses. If you are unsure how to use Digital Horses, please contact the office and they will walk you through this seamless process.

Speaking of transfers, this is more of an issue that registrations. It is the seller's responsibility, let me say that again for the ones in the back and hard of hearing, IT IS THE SELLER'S RESPONSIBILITY, to handle the transfer of a horse. If transfer is a misleading term then please substitute in "the selling of a horse" and see if that clears up any confusion. The seller must send the transfer form to the office, or better yet, log on to Digital Horses and handle it all right there. For those of you who have just signed the back of the registration papers and handed them to the buyer, you need to stop this practice and contact the office when you sell a horse. The Board has adopted a new certificate that has taken the transfer application off the back of the registration papers to help curb the errant practice. The easiest way is to use Digital Horses, pay the fee online, and submit the transaction. The office will send the buyer a new set of registration papers (you can even keep the old registration paper – as the registration paper does not denote ownership). If you are picking up on my concerned tone it is because time is running short as ASHA has diligently advertised in the newsletter for a couple years now. The breeders that chap my hide are the ones that are cheating the Association. This is your Association and We need to take personal responsibility to keep it solvent. By putting off the fees onto the, sometimes unsuspecting, buyer, you are cheating the association and quite frankly you are cheating your Shire. I would like to draw your attention to the association bylaws Section 7.

Termination. The Secretary shall terminate the membership of any member who shall be in default in the payment of any fee or charge owed to the Association for a period of three months, or the payment of annual dues for a period of one month, after the same shall become due and payable.

This means that breeders who sell horses without proper registration or transfer open themselves to losing their status as members in good standing. Granted there are some breeders that are unsure and make mistakes but I am addressing the frequent flyers, who know the rules and choose to abuse the director’s good nature. It gives ASHA a bad rap, causes lost income, increases office expenses, cheapens stock and I am asking you to stop and think about what you are doing.

I would like to offer this to our breeders and sellers, please consider buying the new owner a membership to ASHA if they do not have one. Or at least make them a Friends of the Shire for $25/year. Friends of the Shire receive four beautiful Newsletters showcasing what the Shire horse and all the Association has to offer.

I figure if you have made it through this article to this point you are either in agreement with me on these issues or you have become irate. Both are ok and I encourage you to reach out to me to have a conversation on any or all of this.

Like I said, I only have one year for sure, so I am going to make it count. There are some really good people in the association, and I have the privilege to call some of them my friends. I also know that I can rub folks the wrong way and often times it is not on purpose. I also feel we should hold each other accountable and is what I am doing here as I am sure you will hold me accountable as an owner, breeder, and Board member.

I look forward to our conversations down the road and until next time....

I will see you along the fence row.

THERE AND BACK AGAIN. A SHIRE JOURNEY

By Charity Greenlee
Northeast Shires

The adventure continues in the pursuit of equine reproduction education. This time to the small hamlet of Tomball, Texas, with the world renown Breeder's Assistant Course taught by David Riddle and his lovely wife Tina. But first the journey. With my trusty new sidekick, Ace the Chessie, I left Pennsylvania early Saturday morning with a truck, a trailer, a 9 month old Shire filly foal and a burning desire to learn. Winter Storm Uri was destined to chase us all the way to Texas, sleet peeling off the windscreen for two days. Ace helpfully held down the back seat as snowy Appalachian landscape gave way to crystalline cypress trees on the bayou. Somewhere around Alabama, the Country Girl's Cadillac blew a turbo hose and we caught a huge rock in the windscreen. Undaunted, we trucked along, arriving just ahead of Uri at a pristine equine community nestled on the Brazos River in Richmond, Texas. The filly's new owners, JD & Maria Balch joyfully greeted us as their snow giddy children cartwheeled around the rig on Valentine's Day evening. The filly foal is the fourth and final produce of RM's Holly Goes Lightly x Heart Mt. Midnight Special, the very affable Northeast Scotch Bottom Stiletto (Ziva). Named for my favorite crime fighting heroine and wicked cool marking on her front leg, which looks like a knife. The Balch's graciously welcomed us into their home, and we collectively held our breathe for the power to go out. Maria melted water and broke ice on the stock tanks, I searched for truck parts, we delivered hot meals to friends without power, and in the evening we gathered around the fireplace to play board games with the kids. Fortunately, the Lone Star state is uniquely equipped to deal with adversity, namely their inhabitants. Never have I seen the remarkable can-do, positive attitude universally reflected in folks who endured more than 7 days of freezing weather, frozen pipes, water damage and rolling blackouts not seen since 1989. While the Balch's home did bust a pipe and water rained down from the garage ceiling, they tackled the problem as a team and we all fared much better than most.

On Wednesday morning, Ace and I boldly left the safety of Winner Circle Farm on untreated interstate roads, not much better than a pig trail, to attend day one of class in Tomball, Tx. Of the 6 students scheduled, with all flights cancelled, only two of us were available to start class that afternoon in David's RV, as the Riddle's were also without power. Without missing a beat, we dove into a 4 day course on mare care, ultra sounding, deep horn insemination, embryo transfer, and artificial insemination, with clinicals and class room instruction each day. On day two, we were joined by more students who were taking the course again to reblue their edification. I absolutely enjoyed the curriculum, with several hours of classroom instruction in the morning and hands on clinical work all afternoon, David laid the complex material out methodically and logically. We pressed through lunch, Tina saved our lives at least three times by delivering wonderful chow from the local eateries. Most businesses were closed during the week due to severe weather, and I have no idea how she magicked the grub, but it was delicious and most appreciated. David taught the material thoroughly, with the enthusiasm borne from a life long passion for science. The other students were also very important to the experience, coming from the four corners of the country with a shared desire to learn, they were witty, friendly, and seriously talented. David started teaching at 0730 and would go until 1830 or whenever the questions ran out. While he rents the majority of the family farm out to an equestrian training outfit, the lab, breeding suite, and classroom was all ours. Each day, the class was provided a fresh training booklet filled with material gathered by David and his mentor, Dr. Kubiack who started the Breeder's Assistance in 2001. David meticulously guided the class through the science of breeding, ensuring each student had time to copy notes, ask questions, and get the most out of the training. Several previous students called David during the course of the training to ask follow on questions and seek advice. David patiently used the interruptions to teach the class and answer the caller, everyone coming away a little wiser. The class was very tight-knit, enjoying each other's company after class for supper. On the last day of my training (Saturday) I had finally found a part for the truck and a dealership to install said part. Taking an Uber to class that morning, David and Tina graciously dropped me off to pick up the new and improved truck after class and we all went out for dinner at a cute little Mexican restaurant. Early the next morning, Ace and I got on the road, sans filly, and made northern Alabama by early evening. Staying with friends I had not seen since my time with the 10th Mountain Division, it was a welcomed reunion with my military/Chessie family. The rest of the trip uneventful, mile after mile of sunny southern countryside slipping away towards home, I reflected on how much I had learned, the new friends I had made, the confidence to know that equine reproduction is not a mystery, but a science obtainable by anyone of us, and the urgency to apply everything I had learned as soon as possible. Have a repro tale, share it with us in the ASHA Newsletter!

The Breeder's Assistant offers a total of 6 days of training either in house or at your own facilities. Take a look at their website and give David a call as I can whole heartedly endorse his training as worth every penny. David & Tina Riddle (832)257-5323. # What is pH?

A simple test can improve your stallion's fertility!

In scientific circles, pH stands for “potential of Hydrogen,” but as far as stallion semen is concerned, it can mean his “picture of Health.” By understanding how the pH levels of body fluids affect your stallion's health, you will learn just how healthy your stallion's semen really is!

The relative acidity or alkalinity of substances is measured in terms of pH. The more acid of a solution, the lower the pH number, the more alkaline, the higher the number. The pH scale goes from 0.00 (completely acid) to 14.00 (completely alkaline). Distilled water, with a pH of 7.0 is right in the middle – neither acid nor alkaline. An acid solution can be made more alkaline by adding alkalizing minerals – such sodium, calcium, or potassium – that “buffer” the acid, and an alkaline solution can be made more acid by adding acidifying substances. The pH of a solution can be determined by using strips of chemically treated paper. When immersed in the solution, the paper changes color to show the degree of acidity or alkalinity. This can also be attained by an electronic pH meter/test probe.

PH and Your Stallion Semen Health

All of the fluids of the body operate best at particular levels of pH ranging between slightly acid and slightly alkaline. Only stomach fluids are highly acid. Blood has a slightly alkaline pH of 7.35 to 7.45. It is crucial for blood to stay within that narrow range. If the pH of the blood should fall much below 7.35 or raise much above 7.45, the body would not survive very long. Monitoring your stallion's pH can be the difference between of a good breeding season or marginal one.

How can I determine pH?

Simple tests of saliva, urine and/or semen can be simply performed, which can give you a good idea of the pH levels of horse's body. If they are truly healthy, both their saliva and urine should register around pH 7.0. Testing saliva, urine and/or semen in the morning, will give you an idea of how their body is operating. Urine pH tells you how their body is responding to the feed they ate the day before. Saliva pH tells you how your body has adapted to the feed they have eaten in the past weeks and months.

If they have not been eating feeds that contain alkalizing minerals, their body has adapted its functions to keep the pH of your blood and other vital fluids as correct as possible. It is often these long-term adaptations--adaptations that are necessary for survival—that eventually lead to symptoms of chronic degenerative diseases such as arthritis, poor semen motility and/or fertilizing impact.

Where do alkalizing minerals come from?

Alkalizing minerals are stored in many organs and tissues of the body. The liver is the greatest store house of sodium; the bones are the greatest store house of calcium. Yet these store houses can be emptied if the minerals that are utilized aren't properly replaced. The grain and hay you feed determines how well their reserves are replenished. Allowing for a good variety of pasture grasses, contributes to the usable alkalizing minerals they need to restock their alkaline reserves.

When there are enough reserves to buffer the acid produced naturally by cellular activity, due to the feed they consume, their urine pH and saliva pH will register around 7.0. Readings of considerably lower or higher pH than 7.0 usually indicate that their buffering reserves have been depleted and their body is being forced to accommodate by other means.

Shire Horse History In America

By Arlin Wareing

Chapter 10

Please note: This work is an excerpt from a larger book with earlier installments in previous newsletters and is to be taken as the opinion of the author. This piece focuses on Fred H. Bixby and his contribution to the Shire breed. The Bixby family was a major landowner in Longbeach, California so there are different published histories of the family, but this piece was read and corrected by his grandson, Jeffery Green.

This is a history of a breed of draft horses, but it is also a record of the men who owned and advanced the breed for future generations. Fred H. Bixby (1875-1952) was a wealthy rancher in California whose dedication to the Shire saved the breed. He purchased and bred the Shire as a working horse for his ranches at a time when there were fewer and fewer left in the country, as importers and breeders turned their attention to Belgians and Percherons. Fred was not subject to market trends or demands, he raised Shires in large numbers for his own use because they could do the job.

Fred H. Bixby purchased his first registered Shire in 1918, a black California bred stallion by the name of Montezuma Chief (American Shire Horse Association registration #16702) sired by Severn Pilot (ASHA11587, Shire Horse Society [England] registration #26668). The Severn prefix was a bloodline name that was well known and respected in Iowa and England. In 1920 he also imported two mares from England. It is impossible to trace each of Fred's horses, but from 1918 to 1932 he purchased 48 Blackhawk mares, and 2 stallions from Easton and Ward. One of those stallions was Gallant Prince (ASHA20594), born in 1926 and purchased in 1932. This stallion was reportedly Fred's favorite and what he believed to be his best.

In 1932 Easton and Ward were selling out and it seems that Fred bought all of their stock, horses that became the heart of his breeding operation, but he also bought mares from a number of breeders throughout the country. Then, in 1935 he bought several mares and a 7-year-old stallion, Moore's Lindy (ASHA20611), from Mr. J.C. Moore, in Rushville, Illinois. All four of Lindy's grandparents were English imports.

It's important to pause for clarification; Bixby's horses and others of the era are often referred to as an 'Old American' type of horse in regard to confirmation and size. When do Shires stop being English and start being American? They don't really, because a registered Shire has bloodlines that reach back to the 1600's in England. The Shire is a native English breed that has never had a definitive standard to define it, just various types that have been more successful at one time in history over another. Moore's Lindy is an interesting horse to examine because his progeny was very successful in continuing to produce more registered Shires so his bloodlines can be seen in modern American Shires.

Fred was the product of a ranching family that was able to expand and become comfortably successful first through hard work, and then through the discovery of oil on their land. In 1851 Benjamin Flint left his home in Maine to join thousands of others in the California gold fields. He was joined by Thomas Flint and cousins Llewellyn and Amasa Bixby, but they all determined prospecting was not the life for them and instead realized that California appeared to be a good place to raise sheep. They returned to Maine where Ben, Thomas and Llewellyn were joined by Jotham Bixby to form Flint, Bixby and Co, and they started west again in 1853.

They stopped in Quincy, Illinois to purchase 1,880 sheep and drove them cross country to California, which took 5 months. Some of the sheep died on the journey, but those were outnumbered by births so they arrived with a flock of 2,400. In addition, they joined with Colonial W. W. Hollister who added another 9,000 head of sheep to the flock. They crossed the Cajon Pass and arrived in San Bernardino, CA where they spent the winter. Then, the next spring, they drove the flock over the Cuesta Grade near San Luis Obispo and ended up leasing the San Tomas Ranch near San Jose.

In 1855, Flint, Bixby and Co, in partnership with Hollister, purchased the 34,000 acre Rancho San Justo near San Juan Bautista. On a prearranged agreement, Hollister sold his half of the property to an organization that eventually founded the town of Hollister, CA. In 1866 Flint, Bixby and Co, in partnership with James Irvine, bought several large ranches in the South Los Angeles/North Orange County area.

In 1876 James Irvine purchased the interests of Flint, Bixby and Co, but before that happened, in 1871, another cousin, 21 year old John William Bixby, came west to work for the family company. He met and married Susan R. Hathaway, a sister to Jotham Bixby's wife, in 1873. Their son, Fred Hathaway Bixby, was born in 1875 and daughter Susanna in 1880. The 27,000 acre Rancho Los Alamitos became available in 1881, and with the help of his cousin Jotham and banker I. W. Hellmen, John was able to buy it.

John Bixby died in 1887 from what is believed to be appendicitis. Rancho Los Alamitos was divided after John's death in three major parts, the J. Bixby & Co. took about a third, which included land on the south and west coast which they then sold, another third went to Hellmen, and the home and middle section of the ranch, near Long Beach, remained for Susan and her children. She made sure Fred got a good education and he graduated from the University of California at Berkley in 1898 with a degree in Business and Agriculture.

Fred married Florence Green in 1898 in Berkley, where the family was living while Fred was in school. After the wedding they all returned to Los Alamitos where Fred and his sister maintained the land as a crop farm and ranch along with Rancho Santa Ana, which his sister took in 1906 after her marriage to Dr. Ernest Bryant. Their mother died that same year.

As people began moving into the area, the land owned by the Bixby and Flint families became too valuable to farm and parcels were sold to build houses. The one-time ranchers became land developers - at least until they were in a position to buy more land further up the California coastline. The Shell Oil Company discovered oil near Seal Beach in 1921 at Signal Hill, which was part of the Rancho Los Cerritos near Los Angeles that had been sold. In 1926 oil was also discovered on Fred's land.

That area of California quickly earned the nickname Porcupine Valley because there were so many wooden oil derricks covering the 21,600 acres and it was one of the biggest oil producing areas in the county. Over time most of the property was developed and only seven acres of the once great Rancho Los Alamitos remained. This is now a registered historical site focusing on California history and is free to the public.

Fred used the royalty money to purchase stock in the oil companies so he was part owner of the company paying him to pump the oil. He was on the board of several banks, one of which had helped to finance his father. He became involved with a number of companies that all prospered, but he was still a rancher and farmer at heart. In 1913 he bought the 9,000 acre Rancho El Cojo on the coast between Point Conception on the South and Vendenberg to the north. Then in 1939 he added the 16,000 acre Jalama ranch to that location and hired Gordon Davis as his ranch foreman. This property became referred to as the Santa Barbara Ranch, which was the home of the Shire breeding stock.

Fred's breeding mares were kept at the Santa Barbara ranch and the stallions at Long Beach. During the breeding season the stallions were taken north to the mares. Davis was with Fred for many years and lived on the ranch for nearly 20 years after Fred's death. The ranch operation was designed to provide the need for working horses at the other ranches as well. This operation was not intended to be a commercial enterprise; however there may have been a few sales to others. Even Fred may not have known the total number of horses he owned, which included some Percherons and Clydesdales, but it may have been as high as 600. It is thought, however, that some 300 registered breeding stock, most of which were Shires, were kept at the Santa Barbara ranch. Most of the working horses were in the 1,400 to 1,500 pound range, and 16 hands or slightly over.

Fred also owned a 36,000 acre ranch, part of it was crop land, in San Luis Obispo, along with several more. He also served on several state boards, including the California State Fair for 23 years, and was inducted to the Cowboy Hall of Fame posthumously. He was a kindhearted man, and if he found a fellow rancher in financial trouble, he would lend them money. If they were still not able to continue, he did not foreclose, but instead bought the ranch at market value or took over the management, which I assume was some form of rent. At one time he had 22 ranches in California and Arizona.

There is another interesting story about those days that doesn't involve horses. Fred had a cattle buyer by the name of Ray Cornelius, who had his own ranch. It was located not far from the Santa Barbara ranch on the crest of the Santa Ynez Mountain's. It was sold to the 16th Governor of California, Ronald Reagan, in 1974. During Reagan's Presidency it was often referred to as the Western White House.

One of those ranches near Winslow, AZ was 300,000 acres. I don't know the shape of it, but let's say it was square; that would be slightly over 21 miles in each direction. Even the 25,000 acre Santa Barbara ranch had 9 miles of beach front. To travel by way of farm roads it would likely be more. It took a good active horse just to get to where the work was required so the quick moving competent Shire was ideally suited for his needs.

The size of these large ranches reminds me of a story. It seems this little Mexican rancher who had done quite well financially was talking to a very wealthy fellow. He said, "My ranch is so big it takes an hour to drive from one side to the other."

The rich man said, "My ranch is so big, I can get up early of a morning, and it takes me all day to drive to the other side."

"Si," said the little Mexican, "I had a pickup like that once."

While Fred bred Shires for his own needs, he was deeply involved in maintaining and advancing the breed. He was an active member of the Board of Directors of the American Shire Horse Association. His name first appeared as a board member in 1918 until his death. In failing health, he wrote a letter in 1947 to Mr. E. F. Fox, who followed Truman as the Association's Secretary, where he said he was cutting back in his breeding operation and selling 75 Shire mares. It almost sounded like goodbye and four years later, on May 17, 1952, Fred died at the age of 77.

It is hard to trace the horses he may have sold. He used the Blackhawk prefix on some that were applicable, but he never used a prefix of his own. Fox also retired as the American Shire Horse Association Secretary during this period, and a new Secretary was put in place, which added to the failure of the Association shortly after Fred's death. Records of this time period have disappeared or were not kept.

Fred left behind his wife, daughters Katharine, Elizabeth, and Deborah, and son Frederick Jr. His son John died in a car accident several years earlier. Florence Elizabeth Bixby married Edgar Janeway and owned a ranch on the eastern side of the Santa Ynez Mountain's, known as the Cachuma Ranch, which was not far from the Reagan ranch. Part of that ranch became Lake Cachuma when a flood control dam was constructed in 1951. The lake now supplies the water for the City of Santa Barbara. Elizabeth followed her father's love for ranch life and Shire horses and kept a hitch for herself, but most of Fred's horses were sold at auction. A few were sold to buyers from Blackfoot, Idaho and that is the next leg of the Shire story.

The land referred to as the Santa Barbara Ranch is now considered one of the most pristine areas in North America because Fred and his heirs did not allow development. The nearby Vandenberg Air Force Base was established in 1942 and is a rocket testing site; they have also worked to block development of that land so that if a rocket fails it will not fall on a populated area. In 2007, the Bixby Ranch Company, consisting of Fred's heirs, sold the two ranches to a private firm. In 2017 the heirs participated in helping The Nature Conservancy purchase the property, thus protecting it from misuse and allowing outstanding research of our natural environment. The family feels Fred would have been very happy with this final use.

2021 ANNUAL MEMBERS MEETING

Blue Gate Inn, Shippshewana, IN
March 13th, 2021
Meeting Summary

President Wayne Wareing reported that despite the Covid issue, the year was good overall for registrations and transfers. However membership was down some and there are 63 members who have not yet renewed for 2021, despite reminders.

Some things that need clearing up in the Digital Horses Program are being or will be worked on.

- Biggest problem for the registry is breeders and sellers not doing their paperwork – handing it off to buyers and telling them to do it. Horse may change hands 5 – 6 times before a buyer attempts to complete the registration and/or transfers. Considerably increases the difficulty of the process and the cost. Secretary, Stacie Lynch: in her experience, this happens most often in the Shire breed. The problem is much less frequent in the other breeds she deals with. One solution, the transfer is no longer on the back of the Registry Certificates.
- Charity Greenlee was recognized and suggested sellers should include the cost of the registration and/or transfer in the selling price of the horse and pay for both out of that money.
- No shows in 2020 – but requesting member support in 2021. If you don't show, come and support the breed. Lots to watch and do. Good opportunities to learn.
- Charity recognized Lisa Graham for her outstanding work on the National Show and making it financially self-sufficient.

Wayne re-arranged the agenda schedule to allow Jake and Kim Schut to present the plans for a new Clyde/Shire Show in Shippshewana at the Michiana Event Center (MEC) in September 2021.

- North American Clydesdale / Shire Fall Classic – 09/09-11/2021 – MEC – Plans for an ‘All Feathered Show’, to promote better horses and have fun! There will be halter, driving and under saddle classes. Sponsorship has been very good, but more would be welcome. Sponsors will get recognition in several ways.
- Also, the North American Classic 6-Horse Hitch Show is the next weekend at MEC and there will be options to hold horses over for that show.

Clyde / Shire Sale: Lisa Graham reviewed the plans for the 2021 Clydesdale Sale in April, which is open to Shires this year. Four Shires have been consigned by Dr. Gower and will sell in mixed order. Uncatalogued horses will be accepted up to 04/15, and will sell after the catalogued horses. Entries can be made on the Digital Horses program and the sale will be live streamed for online bidding. There will also be premium classes for cart and under saddle.

Membership approval of the 2020 Annual Members Meeting Minutes – Recording secretary, Karla Stoner had provided copies of the minutes of the 2020 Members Meeting in Springfield, MO, prior to today's meeting. She explained the main points and some minor changes to the first draft of the minutes. There were no questions or comments. Lisa Graham/Vicky McCaffrey moved to approve the minutes of the 2020 Annual Members Meeting as presented. No discussion. Question called. All in favor.

Open discussion of matters of interest to the members – Board member questions:

- What do members need to feel welcome? For meetings, more and earlier communications: When, where, what to expect. Charity – make sure your contact information is up to date. A lot of ‘bounce back’ for bad email addresses. Let the office know if you are not getting emails or surface mails.
- Newsletter is our biggest expense each year. Would digital format be acceptable? Tina Atkins wants hard copy; keeps for reference, also follows facebook. Other members present felt the same way, some were OK with digital. Increase advertising to cover costs? More members would have to advertise and / or the print media committee would have to solicit more outside advertising. Pay more for hard copy? - member consensus appeared to be in favor, depending on cost. Other options – reduce number of editions per year – 2 instead of 4. More material in each and start more frequent e-newsletter (monthly?). Mixed responses for & against. Added costs for larger issue twice a year (printing and mailing) would cut into savings. Would need more information on this.
- Question on availability of shirestudbook.com? Some members want to know if this will be available again. Used it to research horses, pedigrees and prospective breeding's. DigitalHorses does not have the depth of information (SHS, CSHA and SHSA horse records). No current knowledge on whether this will be available again. SHS does have an online registry.
- Member asked about calculating breeding coefficients on DigitalHorses. Have been getting different answers from the same inquiry and strange results. Stacie will report this to the programmer. If any other questions or problems come up on DigitalHorses, report them to Secretary Stacie Lynch, secretary@shirehorse.org
- Genotyping of Shires – Member questioned whether this has been done? Very limited at this time.
- Digital Media (Charity) – Switched from Mail Chimp to Constant Contact. Two messages went out so far (meeting and newsletter announcements). Don't want to spam, so let us know what works for electronic updates. Stacie commented that if you unsubscribe, the office can not put you back on. You have to re-subscribe.
- Online digital shows (Member question)? Wayne: very difficult to judge. DJ: especially for youth.
- DJ & Jim - 2022 annual meeting – Where and When? Several in favor of the same venue (Shipshewana) or Ohio in conjunction with Mt. Hope Sale. Some interest for 2nd members meeting in conjunction with National Show. Jim, what days of the week work best? Keep it the same: Fri, Sat, Sun or change? Thurs, Fri Sat, Mon, Tues, Wed? Meeting order? It was suggested to have Members meeting first, then Ed day and Board meetings.
- Board members expressed their appreciation for the excellent member turnout at this meeting.

Meeting adjourned at 6:13PM, EST.

Bob Schrock owner of Shipshewana Harness & Supplies tells about their history of making harness and the oil vat that was used for dipping leather harness.

Dennis Troyer, owner of Troyer Carriage is presented a Certificate of Appreciation from President, Wayne Wareing for his many years of support for providing the cart for our Cart Raffle Fundraiser.

Our Seniors

Karla Stoner sent in Bloomsbury Sir Alec. He will turn 26 years old on June 5th. Pictured here on his 25th Birthday, the one and only time Karla says she has had a birthday party for a horse.

Alec is out of Cowerslane Concorde & Whitefeather Lady Di, Karla's first Shire.

If you have an aged Shire that is 25 years or older, please let us know so we can recognize them.

2021 Education Day

Members listen to Gary Miller of Country Road Belgians explain about counting semen and preparing it for transport.

Members listen to Dennis Troyer of Troyer Carriage in Shipshewana tell about making carts and carriages. Troyer Carriage graciously donates a cart every year for our Cart Raffle Fundraiser.
